The 1929
White Heather

A Year Book Issued by the Students of
Flora Macdonald College
Red Springs, N. C.

Foreword

The Staff of the White Heather offers to you this record of 1929 with the sincere hope that it will constantly recall the things, both grave and gay which befell you and that it may continue to bring you joy even unto the days when dreams give place to re-membering.

Dedication

To

Mrs. Lillian Farquhar Robeson

In deep appreciation of her understanding sympathy, wise and careful guidance, ever-ready smile, and loyal devotion to the red and white, we, the Senior Class, do dedicate this ninth volume of the

White Heather

College Song

Far away from noisy tumult
And the city's throng,
Stands our cherished Alma Mater,
Worthy of our song.

On her wide and spacious campus
Springs of crystal rise,
Which for joy and health and beauty
She shall ever prize.

Stately pine trees waving o'er her,
Proud her guards to be,
Whisper faith and hope and courage—
Faithful listens she.

CHORUS

Now we lift our joyous chorus,
Full of love to thee.
Hail to thee, O Alma Mater!
Hail, O F. M. C.!

And there,
All wild to found an University
For maidens, on the spur she fled; and
More we know not - only this: they see no men.

—Tennyson: The Princess.

Book One
The College

"Three hundred hearts lie fallow in these halls."

"With beauties every shade of brown and fair."

"And o'er a bridge of pinewood passing came
On flowery levels."

"Rooms which gave upon a pillar'd porch."

"In the green gleam of dewy tasselled trees
The shimmering glimpses of a stream."

"O'er it shook the woods and danced the color."

"Knowledge is now no more a fountain seal'd.
Drink deep."

"Stately pinetrees waving o'er her,
Proud her guards to be."

OFFICERS

ALICE MCCONNELL . . . . . President
ANNIE BELLE CORRY . . . . . Vice-President
DOROTHY BUCHANAN . . . . . Secretary
ELINOR ERICKSON . . . . . Treasurer

Senior Class

ALICE MCCONNELL, A.B. . . . . Derita, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Conference Delegate.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Annual Staff; Class Hockey Team; Hockey Varsity; Assistant Manager W. H. Team Room; Class Basketball Team; Mission Study Class Leader; Prayer Band Leader; Manager Class Basketball Team.
1927-'28—Class President; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Hockey Team; Hockey Varsity; Student Council; Class Basketball Team; Manager Class Basketball Team; Basketball Varsity; Mission Study Class Leader; Fire Squad.
1928-'29—Class President; Student Council; Class Hockey Team.

"Wearing the white flower of a blameless life."

Alice has the spirit of a real Joan of Arc; always eager and willing to help, always pushing forward, never yielding. Here's to Alice!

ANNIE BELLE CORRY, A.B. . . . . Covington, Ga.

E X

1926-'27—Prayer Band Leader; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Mission Study Leader; Leader Student Volunteer Group.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Manager Class Hockey Team; President Georgia Club; Chaplain E X Society; Class Hockey Team; Leader Student Volunteer Group.
1928-'29—Class Vice-President; F. M. C. A. Cabinet; Student Council; Class Hockey Team; Manager Class Hockey Team.

"The beauty that endures on the spiritual Height."

Loveliness is the only word that expresses Annie Belle. Even with all those honors that prove how all-round she really is, she makes one think of pure white Easter lilies, stars and the crescent moon—exquisite, ethereal things.

Senior Class

NANCY ABERNATHY, A.B. . . . . Charlotte, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Hockey Team; Class Basketball Team; Choral Association.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Hockey Team; Assistant Manager Class Hockey Team; Class Soccer Team; Manager Soccer Team; Class Basketball Team; Class Baseball Team; Mission Study Leader.
1928-'29—Vice-President Athletic Association; Social Leader Library Circle; Mission Study Leader; Choral Association; Class Hockey Team; Class Soccer Team; Class Basketball Team; F. M. C. Monogram.

"A healthy frame, a quiet mind."

When we think of Nancy we always think of her on the Athletic field. She is a good sport and a friend worth having.

LORENA MAE ALEXANDER, A.B. . . . . Connelly Springs, N. C.

Z

1925-'26—Rutherford College.
1926-'27—Rutherford College.
1927-'28—Fire Squad; F. M. C. A. Circle.
1928-'29—F. M. C. A. Circle.

"A certain miracle of symmetry,
A miniature of loveliness."

Springtime! Moonlight! these are fitting backgrounds for the dainty Lorena Mae. There's a fairy-like grace, a charming oldfashionness about her; but beware! Don't be alarmed to find in her also the spirit of Modern Youth!

Senior Class

MARIA BAIRD, A.B. . . . . Mt. Airy, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Class Hockey Team; Choral Association.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Choral Association.
1927-'28—Prayer Band Leader; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Mission Study Leader; Secretary Junior Class; Treasurer F. M. C. Red Cross; Annual Staff; Commencement Marshal.
1928-'29—President F. M. C. A.; Cabinet; Student Council.

"What guerdon will ye?

"None!
For the deed's sake have I done the deed."

Dignified, yet blessed with a sense of humor; capable and dependable, yet possessed of a love for the beautiful in music and literature (witness her interest in the Romantic Movement), these combined with an unselfish interest in others, make Maria one of the truest, finest, and most delightful of friends.

DOROTHY BUCHANAN, B.M. . . . . Japan

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee; "Pine and Thistle" Staff; Choral Association.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; "Pine and Thistle" Staff; Choral Association.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Assistant Editor "White Heather;" Prayer Band Leader; Choral Association.
1928-'29—Sub-Chairman Membership Committee; "Pine and Thistle" Staff; Senior Scribbler; Secretary Senior Class.

"To follow knowledge like a sinking star
Beyond the utmost bound of human thought."

Once a little donkey almost starved to death trying to choose between two haystacks. If one was labled A.B., and the other B.M., the donkey might have been A.D.B., only "Dot Buch" could have swallowed both and had room for more. And then, too, to have the prettiest complexion in school—is that fair?

Senior Class

MARGARET BUCHANAN, A.B. . . . . Sanford, N. C.

Z

1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-'28—Chaplain of Zetesian Society; F. M. C. A. Cabinet; Conference Delegate; Commencement Marshal.
1928-'29—Treasurer of F. M. C. A.; Cabinet Member.

"Kind hearts are more than coronets
And simple faith than Norman blood."

How some girls just naturally fit in, and manage to know everybody is the question of the age. But besides being attractive to look upon, easy to talk to, and very intelligent, Margaret has a heart overflowing with kindness—this is the secret of her popularity.

MARIAN BURGESS, B.M. . . . . Summerton, S. C.

E X

1925-'26—Athletic Board; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Choral Association; Palmetto Club.
1926-'27—Conference Delegate; President Sophomore Class; Orchestra; Student Council; Highland Flinger; Chorus; Palmetto Club; Prayer Band Leader; Class Hockey Team; Class Soccer Team; Class Tennis Champion; Chorus; College Statistics; Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-'28—First Vice-President E X Society; Athletic Board; Class Hockey Team; Class Soccer Team; Class Basketball Team; Class Tennis Champion; President Palmetto Club; Highland Flinger; First College Quartette; Chorus; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Statistics.
1928-'29—President Epsilon Chi Society; Student Council; Chorus; Class Hockey Team; Hockey Varsity; F. M. C. Monogram.

"Clear honor shining like the dewy star
Of dawn."

It is a pleasure just to watch Marian at her work, to see her play tennis or hockey, to hear her sing or play, but to know her as a friend is to discover a charming personality, a strong intellect and a character whose beauty four years has only partially revealed.

Senior Class

ANNE CARSON, A.B. . . . . Pulaski, Va.

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee; "Pine and Thistle" Staff.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Annual Staff; Mission Study Leader.
1927-'28—Prayer Band Leader; Mission Study Class Leader; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Assistant Business Manager "Pine and Thistle;" Critic Epsilon Chi Society; Public Debater; Second College Quartette; Choral Association.
1928-'29—Editor "White Heather;" Vice-President Virginia Club; College Statistics; Class Statistics; Chorus.

"She's pretty to walk with
And witty to talk with
And pleasant to think on, too."

All this besides being the biggest nuisance in our class. But there's a dignity about Anne, a queenliness, strength and loveliness that few possess. There's sympathy and understanding and a sparkling, irresistible impishness. No wonder we like her—who wouldn't?

MARGARET CLARK, B.S. . . . . Clarkton, N. C.

E X

1927-'28—Secretary Home Economics Club; Secretary of We Club; Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1928-'29—Corresponding Secretary of Epsilon Chi Society; Prayer Band Leader; Treasurer of Home Economics Club.

"A sudden beaming tenderness
Of manners and of nature."

Margaret's story just must end: "They were married and lived happily ever after." For what man could fail to be happy with a woman who loseth not her temper, who can manage without seeming to, and who last but not least, can cook?

Senior Class

ISABELLA CURRIE, A.B. . . . . Shannon, N. C.

1927-'28—Class Hockey Team.
1928-'29—Class Hockey Team.

"Small, but a work divine;
Frail, but of force to withstand."

If a sweet-faced lady in a faded daguerreotype could come to life and walk among us she might look just like Isabella; but if we gave her a hockey stick, surely the illusion would be shattered, for no old-fashioned maiden could ever give the ball the whack that Isabella can—and does!

SARAH CURRIE, A.B. . . . . Laurinburg, N. C.

Z

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Vice-President of Class Student Council.

"Kind hearts are more than coronets
And simple faith than Norman blood."

Sarah has the gift of seeing the humorous side of things. You enjoy a good laugh with her. But she can be serious, too, and is also a good student.

Senior Class

LUCILLE DAVIS, B.M. . . . . Blackshear, Ga.

E X

1925-'26—Chicora College.
1926-'27—Chicora College.
1927-'28—Choral Association.
1928-'29—President Choral Association; Vice-President School of Music; Second Vice-President Epsilon Chi Society.

"Some red heath flower in the dew Touched with sunrise."

Lucille has all the fresh sparkle of a flower at dawn and this combined with her ability to play rings around most pianists and her glowing personality make her irresistible in almost any capacity.

EMMA DENDY, A.B. . . . . Walhalla, S. C.

Z

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1926-'27—Choral Association; Orchestra; Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-'28—Orchestra; Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1928-'29—Orchestra; Sub-Chairman of Library Circle.

"For manners are not idle but the fruit
Of loyal nature, and of noble mind."

The first impression Emma gives is one of sweetness; but we know she has even more enviable traits. We call her "Dinwittie." Why? Oh! Din for the fuss she could make, and Wittie for the remarks she does make. Isn't that better than being merely sweet?

Senior Class

ELINOR ERICKSON, A.B. . . . . Japan

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Choral Association.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Secretary of Circle; Prayer Band Leader; Class Hockey Team; Class Baseball Team; Class Soccer Team; Class Tennis Manager; Choral Association; Class Treasurer.
1928-'29—Social Leader of Circle; Class Treasurer; Choral Association; "White Heather" Staff; Class Hockey Team.

"Much have I seen and known—cities of men,
And manners, climates, councils, governments."

Cool green with flashes of gold; a mind that sees the seriousness of work and a heart that catches the glad relief of play. These elements in Elinor's character go to make up a personality that has made her a firm friend to her classmates.

HELEN FORBIS, B.M. . . . . Greensboro, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Secretary Athletic Association; Chorus.
1926-'27—Treasurer Athletic Association; Prayer Band Leader; Mission Study Leader; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Basketball Varsity; Class Hockey Team; Class Basketball Team; Chorus; Highland Flinger; Conference Delegate.
1927-'28—Vice-President Athletic Association; Vice-President of Conservatory; Cabinet; Chorus; College Statistics; Highland Flinger; Commencement Marshal; Orchestra.
1928-'29—President of Student Body; Student Council; Class Hockey Team.

"To dwell in presence of immortal youth."

Youth incarnate! Youth that goes singing down the pathway of the future meeting responsibilities squarely yet courageously, and always with the unquenchable flame of hope.

Senior Class

MARY GAMBLE, B.M. . . . . Macon, Ga.

Z

1925-'26—Choral Association.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Choral Association; Prayer Band.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Choral Association; President Life Service Band; Quartette; Junior Tea Room Manager.
1928-'29—Cabinet; Treasurer Zetesian Society; Choral Association.

"So gracious was her tact and tenderness."

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," and that's what Mary is. She is always watching out for those who need a kind word to help them along and she doesn't fail to give it. She doesn't stop with words, but is always ready to lend a helping hand.

MEDORA HAMBAUGH, A.B. . . . . Birmingham, Ala.

Z

1925-'26—Class Hockey Team; Baseball Manager.
1926-'27—Class Cheer Leader; Treasurer of Zetesian Society; Recorder of Points; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Mission Study Leader; Class Hockey Team; Class Basketball Team.
1927-'28—Chief Commencement Marshal; Class Cheer Leader; Treasurer of Zetesian Society; Recorder of Points; Fire Squad; Mission Study Leader; Class Hockey Team; Class Tennis Team; Class Basketball Team; Class Soccer Team; Baseball Manager; Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1928-'29—College Cheer Leader; Class Cheer Leader; Vice-President F. M. C. A.; Student Council; Cabinet; Head of Baseball; Athletic Board.

"'For the most fair' would seem to award it thine."

In Dody we feel that we have been entertaining angels unawares. She has been so busy entertaining us that we have almost overlooked the serious side of her work and accomplishments. We'll all remember her varied abilities and enthusiasm and every Senior wants a photograph of the most attractive girl in the student body.

Senior Class

EMELINE HANNA, A.B. . . . . Red Springs, N. C.

E X

1927-'28—Class Hockey Team.

Were wisdom, in the scorn of consequence."

Whenever anybody, especially Seniors, needs a lift, Emeline is right there. And her cheerful smile would make anybody feel better and we know it will go wherever she does in life.

MADGE HOBGOOD, B.M. . . . . Greensboro, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—College Orchestra.
1926-'27—College Orchestra; String Quartette.
1927-'1928—College Orchestra; String Quartette.
1928-'1929—College Orchestra; String Quartette.

"Lightlier move the minutes fledged with music."

What would '29 be without Madge's infectious laughter and ever-ready cheerfulness? And what would Mrs. Sanderson do in the annual Christmas play without Madge as the chorus? And what would the Conservatory do without Madge? Oh, shoot! What would we all do without Madge?

Senior Class

MARGARET HOOKS, B.M. . . . . Kenly, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Choral Association.
1926-'27—Choral Association.
1927-'28—Assistant Business Manager "White Heather;" Secretary of School of Music; Choral Association; Commencement Marshal.
1928-'29—Business Manager "White Heather;" President School of Music; Choral Association.

"Shine out, little head, sunning over the curls,
To the flowers and be their sun."

If you don't believe good things come in small packages, just look at Margaret. One look will make you look again and then again, for she's a bundle of sunshine, common sense, musical ability, business capacity, and everything else necessary to make her thoroughly lovable.

ROBBIE HORNE, A.B. . . . . White Oak, N. C.

E X

"For true you are and sweet
Beyond mine own belief in womanhood."

Everyone sees the sweetness and helpfulness of Robbie's many-sided nature, but she has also a keen sense of humor, a capacity to enjoy life—this we find when we know her.

Senior Class

MARGARET LAW, A.B. . . . . Elliot, S. C.

E X

1926-'27—Vice-President Palmetto Club.
1927-'28—Class Basketball Team.
1928-'29—Secretary and Treasurer of Palmetto Club.

"Yearning for the large excitement that the coming years would yield, Eager-hearted as a boy when first he leaves his father's field."

When Margaret was elected the "most humorous" girl in her class, it was a tribute to her infectious laughter and mirth-provoking remarks. Good nature is all too rare in this work-a-day world, and she who has such an abundant supply of it need seek for no other treasure at the foot of the rainbow; for even through a blur of tears those about her will see the glimmer of her smile and smiles and tears will make another rainbow when the last has faded away.

MELBA MCKINNEY, B.S. . . . . Crossnore, N. C.

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee; College Orchestra; Choral Association.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; College Orchestra; Choral Association; Class Hockey Team; Class Basketball Team.
1927-'28—Assistant Manager Junior Tea Room; Class Basketball Team; Class Soccer Team; Class Hockey Team; Y. W. C. A. Committee; College Orchestra; Mission Study Leader; Class Baseball Team.
1928-'29—President Life Service Band; Recording Secretary Epsilon Chi Society; Assistant Manager Senior Tea Room; Treasurer of Publicity Circle; Chorus; College Orchestra; Mission Study Leader.

"Centered in the sphere of common duties."

You can't help having a good time when you are with Melba. She is jolly, witty, and friendly. What more is needed?

Senior Class

FLORA MCKINNON, A.B. . . . . Red Springs, N. C.

"A quick brunett, well moulded, falcon-eyed."

Flora has won the hearts of all of us and this is not surprising when you remember that in addition to being the prettiest girl in school, she has a friendly, happy disposition and a smile that captures everyone she meets.

MARY FORD MILLER, A.B. . . . . Montreat, N. C.

EX

1926-27—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Poet.
1928-29—Senior Scribbler.

"Lo! ever thus thou growest beautiful
In silence."

Mary Ford in "She Stoops to Conquer," carousing with the tavern roisterers to the tune of the "Three Jolly Pigeons." Mary Ford, in "Noah's Flood," beating the irate wife who deserved it no doubt; Mary Ford as Bottom, roaring through the play of the mechanicals, or again as the grey-haired Grandmother, reaching unexpected depths of pathos in "The Last of the Lowries." Mary Ford, in innumerable roles, ranging from raggedy men to big villains, from farcical comedy to tragedy bare and stark—how else shall we remember Mary Ford than by the thing in which she has made herself remarkable? Surely the class of '29 is fortunate in calling her its own; when the curtain rings up on the next act, may her role in the drama of life be as happily chosen and successfully acted as any of these have been.

Senior Class

ELIZABETH MUNROE, A.B. . . . . Japan

E X

1925-'26—Class Secretary; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Mission Study Leader; College Choral Association.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Assistant Editor "Pine and Thistle;" Class Hockey Team; Choral Association; Highland Flinger.
1927-'28—Editor "Pine and Thistle;" Choral Association; First College Quartette; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Highland Flinger; Class Hockey Team.
1928-'29—First Vice-President Epsilon Chi Society; Choral Association; Class Hockey Team; Public Debater; Senior Scribbler.

"Sweet nature gilded by the gracious gleam
Of letters, dear to Science, dear to art."

Whenever we want anything done that requires intelligence, originality, ability of any kind, whether dramatic, literary, musical, artistic or most anything else, we go to Bess. Her resourcefulness is inexhaustible; we are forever discovering new talents, even after four years, and in addition to that, wasn't she voted the most beautiful girl in school? She has been elected May Queen, too, but those of us who know her as a friend would like also to name her Queen of Hearts.

HELEN PORTER, A.B. . . . . Washington, Ga.

Z

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1926-'27—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Class Treasurer.
1927-'28—Secretary Y. W. C. A.; "Pine and Thistle" Staff.
1928-'29—Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Senior Scribbler.

"Thou art the highest and most human, too."

Helen is one of those rare mortals who excel in everything they undertake. She accomplishes her work with a painless ease at which the rest of us can only rub our eyes and stare; yet breaking all psychological rules this perfection never gets on anyone's nerves. This, because of her nicely balanced sense of humor and her sympathy with human nature.

Senior Class

BURLINE RATLEY, B.S. . . . . Red Springs, N.C.

"Sweet lips whereon perpetually did reign
The summer calm of golden charity."

Burline has made all her friends feel the sweetness of her nature and she has been a charming member in our class. And since she has taken a B.S. she has all the qualities that it takes to guarantee happiness to the man who is fortunate enough to win them.

JO STELLA RICE, B.S. . . . . Pelzer, S. C.

Z

1926-27—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1927-28—Y. W. C. A. Committee.

"As pure and true as blades of steel.

Jo Stella is a loyal twenty-niner. She upholds our class in every way. We don't mind asking her to do things because she is always willing to help and can be depended upon to do what she has promised.

Senior Class

IRIS ROBINSON, A.B. . . . . Cary, N. C.

Z

1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee.
1928-'29—Chaplain Zetesian Society.

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

Faithfulness is perhaps Iris' chief characteristic, but History of all kinds has been her fate. We should not in the least be surprised to awake some morning and find the campus covered with forbidding holes where the industrious Iris had begun excavations for a vanished race. Perhaps she'll find some bone, construe it into a gigantic prehistoric animal or say it's a part of Caesar's skull and thus become famous. Then we can say with gusto, "Ah, we know her, went to college with her, you know."

IRENE SANDLIN, B.S. . . . . Beulaville, N. C.

Z

1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Commencement Marshal.

"She seems a part of those fresh days to me."

Irene always seems to express vitality—in her walk, her eyes, her quick little way of speaking, everything she does. And then, too, we'll all remember the way she looks in red and white and that means she's a real part of '29.

Senior Class

HELEN SCOTT, A.B. . . . . Charlotte, N. C.

EX

1925-'26—Asheville Normal.
1926-'27—Asheville Normal.
1927-'28—Y. W. C. A. Committee; Conference Delegate.
1928-'29—"Pine and Thistle" Staff.

"It is better to fight for the good than rail at the ill."

Asheville's loss was our gain when Helen came to us last year. Quiet, self-contained, capable and successful in everything she undertakes, Helen's is a personality not often found and which, once found, cannot soon be forgotten.

FLORA STREET, B.S. . . . . Glendon, N. C.

EX

"Every door is barred with gold
And opens but to golden keys."

Flora goes along so quietly that you hardly realize that she is moving, but we always find that she "gets there" right on time. She has gone through the four years without ever getting ruffled, and if you think that is easy to do, just try it!

Senior Class

MARY TEETER, B.S. . . . . Mooresville, N. C.

E X

1924-'25—Class Hockey Team; Y. W. C. A. Committee; Fire Squad.
1925-'26—Class Hockey Team; Hockey Varsity; Fire Squad.
1927-'28—Class Hockey Team; Fire Squad; President of We Club.
1928-'29—President Home Economics Club; Treasurer Epsilon Chi Society; Prayer Band Leader.

"Here, by God's rood, is the one maid for me"
"Thrifty, too, beyond her age,"

When we think of Mary Teeter we have visions of practice house specials such as roast turkey and pumpkin pie— yum, yum—or fried oysters and steak a la mayonaise, or whatever it is they call it. But that's not all, by no means, for Mary is an accomplished housekeeper and will someday make somebody a wonderful housewife—though that doesn't seem to need advertising. And since Mary Teeter is a two-name girl, how are we going to identify her when that last name disappears?

GRACE WALLACE, A.B. . . . . Dillon, S. C.

E X

1925-'26—Y. W. C. A. Committee.

"The path of duty was the way to glory."

Grace is a steady, dependable worker. It is a pleasure to work with her because she knows exactly what she is doing and makes you feel the same way. Twenty-nine has always had a loyal member in her.

"A life that moves to gracious ends."

We have always regretted that Miriam had to be a town girl, for fortunate as that may have been for her, it meant that we have seen considerably less of her than we would otherwise. And Miriam is the sort of girl we'd like to see all the time—capable, intellectual, a friend in need (witness the number of times she has picked up frantic Seniors rushing madly to chapel) and a friend indeed, if a keen sense of humor and a deep interest in people and things go to make up one. As it is, Miriam is a very definite part of '29 and the class would not be complete without her.

Senior Class Poem

We stand upon the threshold, and the way
Broadens before us down the coming years,
Dim-seen, half-traced through mingled hopes and fears,
Shaded with doubts and lost in wondering, gray
With rising mists, uncertain; yet the day
Touches with rose some beckoning peak that rears
Its head above the valleys, calls us, clears
Our vision for the road—we cannot stay.

We stand upon the threshold; but once more
We turn with love to look behind us. Here
We have learned to joy in living; we are strong
To face whatever journeys lie before.
You send us out to climb our paths with cheer
Upon our lips, and in our hearts a song.

SENIOR CLASS POET

Senior Class History

BACK in the dark ages (1925) one hundred and thirty-two noble girls from various and sundry places decided that this country of ours needed to be more enlightened. And so they made ready to prepare themselves for the carrying on this work by entering the door of Flora Macdonald, a stately castle, safely guarded by its impregnable walls and moats from all attacks by those horrible creatures known as Men. Here in their seclusion they felt sure they would be able to find ancient manuscripts, hidden away in secret places, which would help to throw light on certain subjects then not well understood. And thus this band of girls worked together diligently for a year, making many discoveries of great importance, but only a part of what they felt to be necessary in order to enlighten our country. And so they decided to work together for several more years, returning to their homes for three months out of every year to pass on to others the wonderful discoveries they had made.

Now we come to the middle ages. Many of these girls had to give up their dreams of working together for four years, and only fifty-seven returned at the beginning of the next year. This year these fifty-seven had a rough and rugged path to tread, especially when they studied an old manuscript written by a man named Chaucer. He used such strange words that it took them a great while to find out what he was talking about. Then there was another ancient manuscript entitled Trig, which was written in the strangest hieroglyphics. These they deciphered with difficulty, but successfully. But how tortured were their poor brains during the process. However, there were pleasant sides also to this research work, and on the whole this year together was enjoyed, though all felt inclined to rest during their three months' absence rather than to pass on their knowledge to others.

This rest refreshed them greatly and at the beginning of their third year thirty-seven loyal ones were ready to start to work with renewed vigor. A great many important discoveries were made this year, one of these being a manuscript entitled Chemistry. This was interesting because it contained a strange code, using the letters we are familiar with but spelling the words we know in such a different way. For instance, salt was spelled NaCl. This proved an interesting study though at times rather difficult. When the code was learned it really did not seem so confusing after all, and in many cases saved a great deal of time when writing. Toward the close of this year it was decided by the group as a whole that only one more year could be spent in research work together and then they must go out into the world and spend their time in passing on what they had discovered. It was hard to decide just which of the remaining manuscripts they should study, all seemed so interesting, but finally these manuscripts were divided among the girls and then laid aside ready to be taken up at the beginning of the last year.

So far we have discussed ancient and medieval history. Now we come to modern times. At the beginning of this last year four new members were added to the band of workers and the forty-one set to work determined to accomplish more this last year than they had done any of the previous years. One of the most interesting manuscripts studied this year was that about Physics. This dealt with a great many things which now happen around us every day and so could be duly appreciated. However, there were a good many "problems" arising in regard to these from time to time and they were not very pleasant to bump into.

Besides studying manuscripts this year there were other important duties which had to be performed. There were always various meetings to be attended concerning many different things. These took up quite a bit of time and kept the girls busy. But this did not bother them and they thought with regret of the following year when they would not be working together.

The owners of this castle of Flora Macdonald felt so grateful to these girls who had given four years to studying and interpreting the various manuscripts hidden within its walls, that with one accord they voted to present each girl with a manuscript having written on it her name and all she had done in the way of discovery during her four years there. The girls looked forward with delight to receiving these tokens of gratitude. With them they felt that they would be well prepared to go out into the world and show their discoveries to others.

Last Will and Testament

State of North Carolina
County of Robeson

Red Springs

We, the Senior Class of Flora Macdonald College, having eagerly devoured the library, thoroughly imbibed the Scotch spirit of the place, and completely exhausted the supply of knowledge of all the faculty, being now about to pass out into the world to be a service and enlightenment to mankind, do hereby make and publish our last Will and Testament.

SECTION I

Article I. We express to our Alma Mater our deep appreciation of the ideals, knowledge and various means which she has given us of finding joy in living, together with our undying devotion and loyalty.

Article II. To that noble body of instructors that compose our faculty, we leave the supreme satisfaction of having sent out one class, each member of which, possessed all the knowledge she was supposed to have.

SECTION II

Article I. To the Class of '30 we do bequeath the right to sleep through the last as well as the five-minute bell on Sunday morning, and the front seats in chapel.

Article II. To the incoming Juniors, we do will all success and happiness in life in proportion to that which they, as Little Sisters, have brought to us.

Article III. To the incoming Sophomores we do will the privilege of feeling wiser and more important than they ever have before, or ever will again.

Article IV. To the incoming Freshmen we bequeath the sisterhood of the Juniors, together with the inestimable privilege of upholding the honor of the Red and White.

SECTION III

Article I. I, Alice McConnell, do will my excess weight and melancholy disposition to Blanche Stewart.

Article II. I, Nancy Abernathy, do will my blond curls, blue eyes and baby ways to Mary Eunice Wells.

Article III. I, Lorena Mae Alexander, do will my general attractiveness, especially my unusual height to Vela Smith.

Article IV. I, Maria Baird, do will my long hair and romantic disposition to Virginia Cunningham.

Article V. I, Dorothy Buchanan, do will my boundless energy and enthusiasm, together with my ability to lead yells, to Gertrude Crandall.

Article VI. I, Margaret Buchanan, do will my interest in chemistry Lab. to Florence Price.

Article VII. I, Marian Burgess, do will my ability to play tennis, and my vocal accomplishments to Jane Carson.

Article VIII. I, Anne Carson, do will my most marvelous athletic ability to one Shmitt, called on occasion, Margaret E. Smith.

Article IX. I, Margaret Clark, do will my numberless qualifications as a good housekeeper, since I shall not need to refer to them again, to Gladys Corbitt.

Article X. I, Annie Belle Corry, do will all my Mathematical treatises, scientific accomplishments, and perfection in playing the "Madonna," to Katherine Alford.

Article XI. I, Isabella Currie, do will my good reports and knowledge of Spanish to Ruth Bain.

Article XII. I, Sarah Currie, do will my rough and riotous temperament to Annie Thomas.

Article XIII. I, Lucille Davis, do will my ability to make friends in a hurry and my startling pianistic efforts to Betty Hicks.

Article XIV. I, Emma Dendy, do will my masterful disposition and my skill as lion tamer to Ruth Harris.

Article XV. I, Edith Erickson, do will my ability to sympathize, my aged appearance and my preference for Duke University, to Alma McBride.

Article XVI. I, Elinor Erickson, do bequeath my wit, wisdom, and subscription to "Time," to Irene Bennett.

Article XVII. I, Helen Forbis, do bequeath my Senior dignity and quiet composed manner of walk and address to Nancy Conduff.

Article XVIII. I, Mary Gamble, do bequeath my interest in the tea room and my place on the quartet to Lucille David.

Article XIX. I, Medora Hambaugh, do leave my quiet personality, splendid domestic habits, and lipstick to Annie Sue Bost.

Article XX. I, Emeline Hanna, do bequeath my privileges as a day pupil, my class spirit and green Ford to Annie Ruth Sinclair.

Article XXI. I, Madge Hobgood, do bequeath my giddy giggle, musical ability and spare time to Curtis Coppedge.

Article XII. I, Margaret Hooks, do will my fierce frown, heavyweight championship and coffee pot to Carrie Shepard.

Article XXIII. I, Robbie Horne, do will my vampish ways, and ceaseless chatter to Dorothy Council.

Article XXIV. I, Margaret Law, do will my propensity for answering all the questions in every class, especially History, along with my other studious habits, to Jennie Cassady.

Article XXV. I, Melba McKinney, do will my noisy disposition, and unmethodical habits to Evelyn Drake.

Article XXVI. I, Flora McKinnon, do bequeath my countless dates, popularity and punctuality to Georgia Adams.

Article XXVII. I, Mary Ford Miller, do bequeath to and bestow upon Ora Dell Henderson both my histrionic ability and my interest in Physics—especially the experiments in electricity.

Article XVIII. I, Elizabeth Monroe, do will my ability to qualify at any time for every office or position of importance in the school to anyone who can present sufficient qualifications to justify it.

Article XXIX. I, Helen Porter, do leave to Edna Carlson my usual "A" pluses, my unfailing habit of solving all Physics problems, and my loud speaking voice.

Article XXX. I, Burline Ratley, do will the Senior corner of the day pupil's room, together with my seat in chapel to Mae Mercer.

Article XXXI. I, Jo Stella Rice, do will my place at the rotunda during mail call to Laura Beatty.

Article XXXII. I, Iris Robinson, do bequeath my hesitancy in asking questions and my abhorence of anything historical, to Kathryn Hunt.

Article XXXIII. I, Irene Sandlin, do will my insomnia and promptoess to meals to Frances Steele.

Article XXXIV. I, Helen Scott, do will my athletic prowess, Senior privileges and fast speaking to Nancy Erwin.

Article XXXV. I, Flora Street, do will my accomplishment in the art of never letting anyone else say a word, to Janette Freeman.

Article XXXVI. I, Mary Teeter, do will my cook-books, and dust-mop to Edith Grace Wildman.

Article XXXVII. I, Grace Wallace, do bequeath my tendency to let folks know I'm there to Lucile Jernigan.

Article XXXVIII. I, Miriam Watson, do will my place in the hearts of the girls and my place of honor in the English department to Martha McKinnon.

Article XXXIX. I, Pearl Wilkinson, do will my Senior Privileges and my Education book to the highest bidder.

In witness whereof we, the Class of 1929, set our hands and seal this twenty-third day of January, Anno Domini, one-thousand-nine-hundred-and-twenty-nine.

Senior Class Prophecy

MAIL! and best of all, it was a Flora Macdonald College bulletin telling all about Founder's Day at the College. To be sure, it was a month old, but when one is an old maid archeologist in the Sahara desert, one cannot be too picayunish about such little things, so I settled down to read it. It was dated October, 1939, and I realized that it was the date set for our class reunion. Sure enough, the program for the day included numbers by many of my old classmates.

"Founder's Day was celebrated with great success this year," I read, "and the college was gratified to see so many of its Alumnae back. The chief speaker of the day was our Ex-Governor Angus W. McLean, who was introduced by Dr. C. G. Vardell, beloved President of the institution. In introducing Mr. McLean, Dr. Vardell referred to the day when he borrowed seven thousand dollars from Mark Morgan, a good Episcopal brother, with which to build Morgan Hall. The President of the Alumnae, Miss Helen Forbis, also referred to the good old days in her address. She told with tears in her eyes how the girls had been allowed to send only one and a half dresses to the laundry at a time.

"Miss Lucille Davis, the noted Choral accompanist, favored the audience with a piano solo and the Misses Helen Porter, Margaret Hooks, and Marian Burgess danced the Highland Fling; Miss Porter is now assistant Bible Professor at F. M. C., and Miss Burgess is soloist of the First Presbyterian Church, New York. Miss Hooks and Miss Madge Hobgood have been here before when they gave us a delightful musical evening on our lecture course ticket.

"The ushers for the day were the Misses Margaret Buchanan, Elinor Erickson, Maria Baird, Dorothy Buchanan, Miriam Watson and Margaret Clark. Miss Margaret Buchanan is Secretary of the Alumnae Association and Miss Erickson is Treasurer—both young ladies give full time to the work, as our Association has grown so large that its business is very great. Miss Baird is the distinguished woman Judge of the Supreme Court and is famous for her stern but just decrees. Recently she sent two of our number to jail for disturbing the peace by talking so much. Consequently, Misses Flora Street and Pearl Wilkerson were absent from the ceremonies. Miss Dorothy Buchanan is now Editor of the Etude Magazine and Miss Clarke and her co-worker, Miss Jo Stella Rice, are known to every F. M. C. girl who takes practice house training under them. Dr. Miriam Watson occupies the chair of dead languages at Cornell University.

"The Alumnae banquet was held at 1:30 P. M. in the tea room. Misses Melba McKinney and Mary Gamble, proprietors of the famous Red Springs Cafe, were in charge. The decorations were tastefully arranged by Miss Edith Erickson, who has been in Paris studying designing. The success of the dinner was largely due to the culinary efforts of Miss Mary Teeter of the department of Home Economics, Good Housekeeping Magazine, who has become world renowned as an inventor of new dishes, but after dinner speeches also contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion. Miss Annie Belle Corry told how her experience as hockey manager had helped her out of some tight squeezes in her Missionary work in China; Miss Anne Carson gave an excellent resume of the political situation in Washington where she holds a position as public stenographer; Miss Mary Ford Miller, known to us all for her kindergarten work with the Near East Relief Workers, favored us with a selection entitled, 'The Tree Toad.'

"As had been announced, an exhibition hockey game was played between the Alumnae and the College Varsity promptly at 3 P. M. The Class of '29 was represented as follows: Center forward, Alice McConnell; center halfback, Nancy Abernathy (these two young ladies are instructors of athletics at the city Y. W. C. A. in Greensboro); right-inside, Sarah Currie (the Sarah Currie who edits the Good Looks Department of the Woman's Home Companion); left-inside, Emma Dendy (Emma is now a professional lion tamer and has a lion farm in California); right-wing, Lorena Mae Alexander (she decided to be an organ grinder and was very successful until her monkey died); left-wing, Robbie Horne; left-halfback, Grace Wallace (both of these latter are staying home keeping house); right halfback, Iris Robinson (Iris is now editing the questionnaire that is sent out to prospective teachers); left fullback, Margaret Law (it is interesting to note that Margaret has achieved a unique career as professional laugher at the New York Clinic for hypochondriacs where she has made a definite contribution to medical science in curing almost hopeless cases of melancholia and neurosthenia); Isabella Currie, who has taken over Miss Katie Brown's millinery establishment, played left fullback and Emeline Hanna was goal guard. Emeline is tea-taster for a tea importer in San Francisco, but she fears that this is not a good occupation for her health and is thinking of changing it.

"A large number watched the game and frantic cheers were led by Miss Medora Hambaugh, who is now earning her living by conducting sight-seeing tours through Canada and the Western states. Both teams played well, but the Varsity had absolutely no chance against the spirited Class of '29, and the Alumnae won by the overwhelming score of 49 to 0.

"After the game all were invited to a tea given by two young matrons of Red Springs, formerly the Misses Burline Ratley and Irene Sandlin.

"The final event scheduled for the day was a moving picture entitled, Rose Red and Snow White, starring Flora McKinnon, the beautiful new Paramount Star.

"Altogether, we feel that we can safely say that there has never been a more successful Founder's Day celebrated at the College."

"Humph!" said I to myself. "All this write-up and not a word about my old Soccer Manager, something terrible must have happened to her."

Half fearfully I turned toward the Deaths, but her name was not there, then an item in the Engagement column caught my eye.

"Mr. and Mrs. David B. Scott announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to ——," but my eyes were so blurred with tears I could not see to finish; to think that at last Helen was entering the matrimonial state and leaving me behind as a poor old spinster; I could bear it no longer but broke down and wept copiously behind my mosquito net veil. While I was busy blowing my nose, an errant, little gale came along and whipped the bulletin off my lap and carried it away across the sands forever, so I am still wondering about the rest of the news in that October number for 1939.

History of Ye Junior Class

(With all apologies to Mr. Samuel Pepys)

IN THE YEAR of grace, nineteen-hundred-and-twenty-six, the Freshman class did make its appearance on the campus of Flora Macdonald College as Freshman classes have had a way of doing every September for lo these many years. Methinks 'twas as modest, well-behaved class of young ladies as one will find anywhere, though they were not overly inclined to be meek. They learned their lessons, played their games, and minded their manners as all demure little maids should. Some learned to converse in a learned manner on such a variety of subjects that one would think they were preparing to preach, others to speak foreign tongues with such fluency and gusto as to vie with the Tower of Babel. 'Tis a rare occasion when one can walk through the corridors without hearing "Bon jour," "Gracias Senorita," or "Sprechen Sie Deutsch." Some learned to sew a fine seam and cook a tasty dish. Along the line of Athletic activities they captured the basketball championship and the tennis cup. And so to home for the summer.

With the added dignity of being Sophomores, the Class of '30 returned to F. M. C. in September, nineteen-twenty-seven. Also they cherished the knowledge of a stern duty to be imparted to the Freshmen on stunt night and the responsibility that they be led in righteous paths and show all due respect to the Blue and Gray. In this eventful year, '30 gained a commendable pre-eminence in all forms of exercise and proceeded to win the Athletic banner by dint of perseverance, bacon, and grits. Some long-suspected talent in music made its appearance during the year. And thus passed nine months more into the pages of history with much merriment, Sophomore English, and a banner. Again home for a season of rest and to learn Junior privileges, ways, and customs.

The school year of nineteen-hundred-twenty-eight opened with thirty-five Juniors striving to be sisterly to nearly one-hundred young Freshmen. Said Juniors have made an auspicious beginning along lines of outdoor exercise by winning the Hockey Championship. These retiring little maids have not broken any records for brilliance of mind nor have they developed any geniuses of special note, but they have a pleasing manner and dwell in unity and peace among themselves. With the culture acquired in their Junior year and time in the future in which they may develop arts and talents still hidden, they may yet set the world on fire with admiration for their worthy accomplishments and sparkling wits.

The Purpose

The Flora Macdonald Christian Association, affirming the Christian faith in God, the Father, and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord and Savior; and in the Holy Spirit, the Revealer of Truth and the Source of power for life and service; according to the teaching of the Holy Scriptures and the witness of the church, declares its purpose to be:

To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ;

To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church;

To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible;

To influence them to devote themselves in united effort with all Christians to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God through the world.

Jokes

Soph: Teachers are worse than immigration authorities at Ellis Island nowadays.
Senior: Why?
Soph: They've swiped the slogan, "They shall not pass."

* * *

Kirky: Nellie Mae, what time is it?
Nellie Mae: 10:15, why?
Kirky: Great day, I wish light bell would ring so I could put out the light.

* * *

Mrs. Strick: Did the people seem to enjoy your concert, Fred?
Mr. Strick: They all laughed when I sat down to the piano.
Mrs. Strick: Why?
Mr. Strick: Someone had removed the stool.

* * *

"The wisest crack of all is to keep the one in your face closed."

* * *

Found on a Freshman's registration card—
Question: Give your parents' names.
Answer: Mama and Papa.

Miss Carson: How do you define ignorance?
Little Moore: Ignorance? Oh, I know, it's when you don't know something and somebody finds it out.

* * *

What do we stand for?
The seats are all gone.

* * *

Mr. McLeod: Miss Miller, what is a molecule?
Mary Ford: Oh—er—it's one of those peculiar spectacles that the Englishmen wear.

"Is the editor particular?"
"Rather. She raves if she finds a period upside down."

* * *

Tommy: Grandpa, did you used to have hair like snow?
Grandpa: Yes, son.
Tommy: Well, who shovelled it off?

Miss Shuler: Now girls, watch the board very carefully and I'll go through it again.

Can You Imagine

Miss Sample speaking aloud?
Miss Johnston without an announcement?
Miss Carson without her insignia?
Miss Brown without her cruche?
Mr. Strick without his cigar?

Dum: Tell me, what is an average?
Dummer: It must be a thing to lay eggs on, for mother says that our hens lay six eggs a week on an average.

* * *

He: I'm poor, but that's no disgrace.
She: No, but that's the only thing that can be said in its favor.

* * *

Mrs. Sanderson: What did you say?
Soph: Nothing.
Mrs. Sanderson: I know, but how did you express it?

* * *

"Have you heard of the Scotchman who boarded the Pay-as-you leave bus?"
"No."
"He's still riding."

* * *

Miss Carson: What is the most common impediment in the speech of American people?
Anne (Contentedly): Oh—er—chewing gum.

Miss Shuler: Bisect the line.
Fresh: Into how many parts?

* * *

Mr. McLeod: Young ladies, I have always heard that to sleep in the moonlight will make you go crazy.
Dody: But, Mr. McLeod, that isn't so. I've slept in the moonlight all my life.
Mr. McLeod: Merely proves my point—merely proves my point.

Jane: Eula, would you marry for money?
Eula: Well, not exactly, but I would like for Cupid to shoot me with a Pierce-Arrow.

FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE

RED SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA

FACTS

Graduates are securing positions everywhere, and are earning excellent salaries.

Three thousand alumnæ are engaged in 60 different occupations.

Forty-one branches of Alumnæ Associations have been organized: 41 in North Carolina, 8 in South Carolina, 1 in New York, and 1 in Washington, D. C.

Ten F. M. C. girls are in mission fields: China, Japan, Africa, and Mexico.

AIM

To be rated not by the number of students, but according to the class of work done.

To make the college an institution for teaching how to take part in the world's activities and the joy of service.

To declare emphatically for development of Christian Character through the study of God's Word.

"We Never Retail" "We Never Peddle"

After much study and consideration we are firmly convinced that distribution and service to the public is best through the recognized channels; namely, Producer or Manufacturer to Wholesaler, Wholesaler to Retailer and Retailer to Consumer.
And so we cooperate in every way with both the Producer and the Merchants that we may all prosper and give to the public the best and most efficient service.
This service to the public we think is, and always should be, the ultimate aim of every business, and we strive at all times to maintain the same high standards as will be found in any of the professions.
In the fulfillment of this service through so varied and interesting a field as the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Industry, we find the greatest satisfaction and reward, whether there is financial gain or not.
However, under our policy of Highest Quality, Best Service and Fairness we have prospered and have put back into the business whatever has been necessary to continuously improve it—and so we are able to offer to the merchants throughout this section a highly improved and satisfactory service.

Cabbage from New York, Florida, Texas and our own State
Apples from New York, Washington and our own State
Turnips from Canada
Cocoanuts from Porto Rico
Lemons from Italy

Merchandise from all over the United States and nineteen foreign countries. It makes no difference when or from where, if the demand justifies it we have it.
